Two Drown In L. Bucks

Mrs. Anthony Olszewski waits on the beach while rescuers search for her nine-year-old son who drowned off Tullytown Beach yesterday. Up until her son's body was found she was convinced he was not in the water but hiding on land somewhere.

Mrs. Dorothy Huntsinger, of Roslyn, sobs hysterically as rescue workers pull her husband's body from the water at Croydon. Mrs. Huntsinger who later threatened suicide, is restrained by a nurse of the Bucks County Rescue Squad.

Levittown Boy Dies In Tullytown Lake

158 Killed On U.S. Highways; Pa. Has 15

By UNITED PRESS

Traffic victims died one at a time or two, three and four at a clip on the Fourth of July, and alarmed safety councilors appealed today to drivers to get their travel under control.

Carelessness also took a heavy toll at beaches and in vacation areas. But the spurring traffic fatality lists took most of the attention of the National Safety Council.

A United Press tally at noon, e.d.t., showed 158 Americans dead in highway accidents, since the holiday began at 6 p.m. Wednesday. There were 91 drownings, 6 died in airplane accidents, and 14 in miscellaneous mishaps, for a total of 269.

Ohio had 16 traffic deaths, Pennsylvania 15, Texas 13, Oklahoma 12, New York 10 and California 8. Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council issued a warning during the early morning hours that the toll will come near the pre-holiday estimates of 535 persons killed unless the rate slowed. Instead, the rate mounted as reports came in.

"We appeal to the drivers to help traffic enforcement agencies in bringing the toll back under control," said Dearborn. "It is increasing at an alarming rate."

The rate was running ahead of that in the same period of elapsed time in the last previous four-day holiday of the year, New Year's.

One of the nation's worst tragedies occurred near Leesville, La., Thursday when six persons were drowned in a chain of disastrous rescue attempts.

Authorities said the six, all Negroes ranging in age from 8 to 20, were fishing when one of the youngsters fell overboard. One by one the others jumped into the water in futile efforts to save their companions.

Man Perishes In Croydon Creek Tragedy

Lower Bucks experienced its most tragic July Fourth holiday in recent years as two persons, one a nine-year-old Levittown boy, drowned in separate accidents yesterday.

The death of a third person in the water was attributed to an accident. John Dlugosz, 41, of 3323 Thompson St., Philadelphia, died at Lower Bucks County Hospital yesterday of a broken neck. He suffered the injury while swimming.

Dlugosz was injured Sunday while bathing on a picnic at Croydon, on Neshaminy Creek.

While tragedy lurked in the water it forsook the highways. Area police report no serious accidents as the result of holiday traffic.

The two drowning victims were Casimir Olszewski, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Olszewski, of 82 Wildflower Road, Whitewood, Levittown, and Willard Huntsinger, 43, of 2516 Woodland Road, Roslyn.

About 250 volunteers worked from 5 p.m. to past midnight searching for and trying to revive the victims.

Rescue workers found the body of the boy in two feet of water just 10 feet off shore at the Tullytown public beach at Van Sciver Lake. They found the body at 11 p.m. just when calls were coming in for help to search for the second victim. It had been decided to abandon the six-hour search for the boy and all the boats were heading toward shore when the youth's body was found.

Dives Off Boat

Huntsinger drowned in the Main Street Boatyard, Croydon, about 10 p.m. when he dived off his boat.

The boy, Casimir, had gone to the Tullytown beach with his mother, Anna, and two brothers, Anthony, Jr., three, and Michael, 7. They arrived at the beach about 2:15 the mother said. She told Tullytown police that she last saw Casimir at 2:30. At that time she said he was running on the beach away from the water.

She told police that she was alarmed by the boy's disappearance. She explained that he was angry at her, and said he frequently hid from her when he was angry.

It was not until 4:45 p.m. that she notified Tullytown Patrolman John Steen who was passing by the beach. Steen summoned Chief John B. Walterwick.

The chief organized a search party of bathers and scoured the woods and several other areas around the lake.

Military Leaders Support Khrushchev In New Purge

LONDON (UP) — The Soviet military rallied to the support of Nikita S. Khrushchev today in his purge of the trio of Stalinist leaders ousted for their alleged "anti-party" and "anti-government" sins in Russia.

Led by Soviet Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov, the armed forces chiefs sparked a mounting campaign of propaganda against the deposed Red bosses.

Mystery still cloaked the whereabouts of V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov and Lazar Kaganovich. They apparently were enjoying a technical "freedom" in Moscow that might be short-lived.

Communist sources here said the three men may have to face trial for their shortcomings. If they do, the sources said, the death penalty might be invoked against them.

The intensity of the attacks against the ousted trio by the military leaders at meetings of the garrisons in Moscow, Sevastopol and Leningrad, as well as in Red Star, official organ of the Soviet armed forces, showed Khrushchev had their full support.

The support showed Khrushchev has emerged as the undisputed boss of Russia, with Zhukov moving up right behind him in importance. But the turmoil of the (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

Plans to require Bristol Township residents to give five days notice before bringing anything up for discussion at meetings of the Board of Commissioners have been modified to the apparent approval of most of the commissioners.

The board discussed the proposal at a special meeting Wednesday night but announced that no official action would be taken until the regular meeting set for July 10.

Under the proposal as it stands now residents giving the five days notice would have their subject placed on the agenda as a regular part of the meeting. Those who did not give the notice could still bring up subjects for discussion at the end of the regular business meeting.

Nothing was mentioned about the latter part in the original proposal. Commissioner Harold Lefcourt had attacked the first plan as a "gag rule." Lefcourt said he has no objections to the new plan.

Most of the residents present at Wednesday's meeting expressed their support for the plan. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 2)

Monster A-Device Fired Inside U. S.

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (UP) — The United States today set off a monster atomic device equal in size or possibly a little larger than any ever fired on this continent.

The blinding flash illuminated the western sky before dawn. A shock wave like an earthquake jarred California coastal cities 300 miles away and was felt on the Mexican border.

The highly experimental bomb, whose exact yield kept American scientists guessing until the moment of detonation, sent an unbridled shock wave over 2,000 Marines crouched in trenches only 3½ miles from the hellish fireball that brightened the sky for more than 1,500 miles.

It was in the same general range as a previous king-size whopper bomb set off here in 1953 and was a good 3½ times as violent.

lent as old-fashioned A-bombs that destroyed two Japanese cities in World War II.

The device was set off exactly on schedule at 7:40 a.m. e.d.t. It was suspended from a helium-filled captive balloon some 1,500 feet above the desert floor of Yucca Flat, 75 miles northeast of Las Vegas.

It exploded with a blinding flash more than 500 times brighter than the sun. The flash was visible for hundreds of miles in all directions as a tremendous fireball boiled upward in a clear sky.

At 8 a.m., e.d.t., test director James A. Reeves announced that hasty calculations by the atomic scientists who witnessed the blast indicated "it appeared to be in the same general range as the previous high yield shot."

Actress Judy Tyler Dies In Accident

LARAMIE, Wyo. (UP) Funeral arrangements were completed today for actress Judy Tyler, whose brilliant stage, screen and television career ended tragically in an automobile accident Wednesday.

It was announced in New York that Miss Tyler's body will be flown from Denver Sunday, arriving at Newark, N.J., airport late the same day. It will be placed in the Frank E. Campbell funeral home, New York, from where the funeral will be held on Tuesday. Burial will be in Ferncliff Cemetery, Hartsdale, N.Y.

Singer Elvis Presley, who had just completed the lead role opposite the 24-year-old brown-eyed actress in a new movie, was heart broken when he learned of her death yesterday.

"All of us boys really loved that girl," Presley said at his home in Memphis, Tenn. "She meant a lot to all of us. I don't believe I can stand to see that movie we made together now, just don't believe I can."

Township Seeks Croydon Homes Land

Bristol township today asked the county court to order Croydon homes to turn over a plot of land to the township.

In a petition filed by Township Solicitor William Carlin, the township is seeking two and a half acres set aside for recreational purposes in that housing development.

Good Evening!

Declaration of Independence properly celebrated.

Maybe not wisely, in many instances, but exceedingly well. Bet the country would make the colonials look like a bunch of pikers when it comes to commemorating that little document.

We'll say one thing: little ol' Lower Bucks county was jumping from dawn until the owls called it a night.

You note what happened down at Connie Mack stadium?

Those Phils of ours cut the Giants down to size twice in a row and climbed right back into the thick of the race. All they've got to do now is to beat the Dodgers tonight and they'll be sitting as pretty as a hen on a fence rail.

Two drownings during the holiday here and it's too bad.

But on the other side of the ledger, highway accidents were held to a most encouraging minimum, and in view of the epidemic of traffic deaths in other parts of Eastern Pennsylvania (10) that's much to be thankful for.

Three of Khrushchev's critics Molotov, Malenkov and Kaganovich—expelled from the party, fired from their government jobs and placed under house arrest. Things happening in the Kremlin.

But don't expect any change in the Commie antics. The Kremlin itself hails the shakeup as a victory for "peace and co-existence" advocates but it's an old line we've been hearing ever since 1945.

Maybe girls close their eyes when kissing because they're trying to remember the guy's name.

It's true: any government that's big enough to give you everything you want is big enough to take everything you've got.

Watch your driving.

Two Brothers Held After Police Battle

Two brothers who Tullytown Police Chief John B. Walterwick said insulted and threatened him yesterday will be arraigned before Justice of the Peace Byron Purdy tonight. The chief said the interference by the two delayed the start of search operations for the nine-year-old Levittown boy who drowned.

The chief said Albert Breidigan, 44, of Edgely, struck him twice as he set out to Van Sciver Lake in response to a call. The brother, James Breidigan, 32, of Tremont, approached and made insulting remarks at the chief after Albert was arrested, he said.

The two were charged with disorderly conduct, breach of the peace, threatening a policeman and resisting arrest. In addition, Albert Breidigan was charged with assault and battery.

It happened on Fallington Ave. in front of the chief's home. Because the borough patrol car, driven by Patrolman John Steen, was on its way to Main St. to break up a fight, Chief Walterwick received at his home the message of an emergency at the lake.

In uniform he got in his car and backed out of the driveway (Continued on Page 3, Col. 8)

Interstate Marine Association were summoned and started searching the water.

A human chain was formed of bathers and rescuers who walked along the shallow part of one shore. When no trace of the boy was found rescue workers started dragging the lake with grappling hook.

All the time the marine units were searching the water Mrs. Olszewski calmly maintained that the boy could not be in the water. She said that while he couldn't swim, he was afraid of the water and would not go in by himself.

"He is not in there," she said confidently about 6 p.m. "He is probably hiding somewhere in the woods or walking home. What worries me is that he should be hungry by now, he only had a candy bar for lunch."

At one time 15 marine rescue units were scouring the lake. Most of the men worked from shortly after 5 p.m. to 11 p.m. When darkness came floodlights were turned on.

Bids Farewell.

Mrs. Huntsinger told Bristol Township Patrolmen Aaron Kelson and Thomas Duffy that she and her husband had returned from a boating trip on the river. They had docked the boat and were ready to leave for home, she said, when he stood up and said "So long, Dot."

His wife, Dorothy, told the officers that she turned around to see him jump in the water. She explained that she thought he was kidding and walked up to the car to wait for him. After waiting ten minutes she said she went back to the boat to see what had happened to him.

She said she waited at the boat for another ten minutes. When her husband did not show up she became alarmed and called for help. An attendant at the boat yard responded and called police.

During the rescue operations Mrs. Huntsinger became hysterical. When her husband's body was located and dragged from the water she had to be restrained from rushing to the spot. As rescuers worked over the body, Mrs. Huntsinger hysterically threatened to commit suicide. She was taken to the headquarters of the Bucks County Rescue Squad and given a sedative.

HENLEY - On - THAMES, England (UP) - Tom McDonough, U.S. Army military policeman from Philadelphia, was eliminated today in the Diamond Sculls semifinals of the Henley Royal Regatta when he was beaten by Australia's Stuart McKenzie.

McKenzie, who won the runner-up silver medal in the 1956 Olympic games at Melbourne, beat McDonough by one length in eight minutes and six seconds.

Levittown Woman Burned Boiling Tea

Margaret Kennedy, of 58 Bald Cypress Lane, Birch Valley, Levittown, was admitted to Lower Bucks County Hospital at 9:30 a.m. yesterday with first and second degree burns of the back.

She was taken to the hospital by the Levittown Emergency Squad after her blouse caught fire while she was boiling tea at home.

Barium Gets Options On Coal Lands

NEW YORK UP - Barium Steel Corp. has acquired an option to lease 5,700 acres of coal land in Western Pennsylvania under a contract recently arranged with Pennsylvania Railroad.

An official of the steel firm declined, however, to disclose the exact location of the land. J. A. Sisto, president and chairman of Barium, said Wednesday the transaction was "another important step in Barium's program to expand its production facilities on its newly-acquired 900-acre site on the Delaware River in Burlington and Florence Twp., in New Jersey."

He said plans call for eventual construction of a fully-integrated steel mill on the New Jersey site to produce plate, structural shapes and seamless tubing.

preapproved approval of the revised plan.

In other actions the commissioners removed Justice of the Peace Earl B. Dougherty as committing magistrate for the township. Dougherty had been appointed to the post January 1956. He also is chairman of the Bristol Township Democratic organization.

Commissioner Albert H. Rogers made the motion to rescind the appointment of Dougherty. Eugene Kehoe, president of the Board, said there apparently was no need for the post. He added that if the need does arise the job will be alternated between Dougherty and Justice of the Peace Rene Tristschler.

Lefcourt defended the magistrate post and asked the commissioners give it "a real chance" to operate.

Two-Way Now

On another suggestion by Rogers the commissioners voted to remove "one way" signs at Belmont and Walnut Aves., Croydon. Rogers said they were not needed and only caused confusion during the week. Henry J. Rolles, township manager, also said he felt they were unnecessary.

It was voted to make the streets one way only on Sunday mornings.

The commissioners instructed Kehoe and Rolles to confer with school officials on the possibility of creating a recreation site out of the old Newportville school. The action came at the request of the newly-created Fergusonville Planning Committee.

Abandoned Car Found

An abandoned automobile was found at the site of the Route 13 extension construction at Route 1 early this morning.

Falls Township officers Gino Mattozzi and William Moyer said the vehicle, bearing a Virginia license plate, was discovered about 2:55 a.m.

Police said as a wrecker was hauling the vehicle out of the construction area, it broke loose and crashed into a bulldozer sitting along the area.

The car was damaged from the fall and after breaking loose from a wrecker trying to haul it uphill, the car was almost a total wreck.

Another wrecker from Lincoln's Garage hauled the first wrecker and the damaged automobile out.

Police are checking with Virginia authorities in an attempt to identify the owner of the vehicle.

Fire Truck Mishap Injures Two

ABINGTON, Pa. (UP) - A fire engine of the Rockledge Volunteer Fire Co., overturned Thursday on the Huntingdon Pike near here and two firemen suffered slight injuries.

Robert Konzelman, of 619 Loney St., Rockledge, and Joseph Malson, of 1711 S. 6th St., Philadelphia were treated at Abington Memorial Hospital.

The firemen were headed for Feasterville where they were to have participated in that community's Fourth of July parade.

Incorporation Survey Slated For Airing

The Bristol Township Board of Commissioners took the first step toward having an impartial study made of the "feasibility" of incorporating or consolidating Levittown and surrounding areas.

On request of Joseph Segal, president of the Levittown Civic Association, the commissioners appointed a three-man committee to set up a joint meeting with the representatives of Tullytown Borough and Falls and Middletown Townships to discuss joint sponsorship of such a survey.

Petition Presented

Segal presented a petition to the commissioners at a special meeting of the board Wednesday night, asking the commissioners to join with the other municipalities in sponsoring the survey.

The petition suggested that the Institute for State and Local Government, of the University of Pennsylvania, be retained to make the study. Segal said the LCA felt this was the most qualified organization to make the survey.

He said the cost of such a survey has been estimated at between $20,000 to $25,000. But he said it is possible the Ford Foundation would finance the survey if a request was made by the four municipalities.

Library Request

In other business the commissioners deferred action on a request for immediate financial aid by the Levittown Library. The request was made by Charles Fink, president of the library association.

It was ruled by the township solicitor, William Carlin, that the board had the legal right to make a contribution to the library. But several commissioners asked if there was enough money available to make a contribution.

Lawrence Mervine moved that $2,500 be donated to the library. But he withdrew the motion on request, to give the Township manager a chance to study the budget and report on the township's financial status at the regular meeting next week.

Rolles Saves Twp. Money

Henry J. Rolles Jr., Bristol Township manager, has been on the job less than three months but already in one transaction he saved the municipality about one-third the cost of his salary.

At a special meeting of the Board of Commissioners Wednesday night he suggested that the board drop plans to buy a cash register. Rolles said the township does not have enough money transactions to justify a cash register.

He suggested that instead the commissioners purchase a receipt machine with a cash drawer. This would do everything the commissioners wanted, he said.

Rolles pointed out that the cash register would cost $4,600 and the receipt machine about $130. The commissioners agreed and saved about $4,500. That is about one-third the manager's salary. Commissioner Rudolph Kratz pointed out.

Thundershowers Seen For This Weekend

Independence Day was hot and a little wet in Lower Bucks yesterday and the remainder of the holiday weekend starting today will be marked with rising temperatures and falling thundershowers.

Warm weather bolstered with winds showers and high humidity today will turn to clear skies by tonight.

Today's high should surpass yesterday's hot spot of 92 at 3 p.m.

Tomorrow's forecast is for fair skies and a little cooler temperatures than today.

HIT BY CAR

Carol Bratton, four, of 343 Lafayette Street, Bristol, was admitted to the Lower Bucks hospital Wednesday with a fractured clavicle. She was hit by a car.

Thousands View Parades, Others Picnic And Swim

Flags, fireworks, picnics and bathing suits were the order of the day yesterday as Lower Bucks Countians celebrated the 181st anniversary of their nation in fitting Fourth of July fashion.

The weather was hot and humid, but did not seem to slow down the enthusiasm of the people. Many flocked to the mountains and seashore in search of cooler weather, but there was plenty of activity right at home.

A sad note was added to the otherwise joyous holiday by drownings in Van Seiver Lake and Neshaminy Creek.

There was little traffic on the highways of Lower Bucks County for a Fourth of July, police said.

State police at Doylestown and Quakertown, as well as Fairless Hills, said this was the quietest, safest, sanest Fourth of July they have ever seen. No accidents were reported by the troopers.

8000 See Parade

A crowd estimated at well over 8,000 watched more than 1,600 paraders in the Upper Southampton parade.

The Feasterville parade, one of the biggest in the suburban Philadelphia area, drew the biggest crowd in its history. One police official said there were at least 10,000 people along the line of march. He said that was a conservative estimate.

A huge fireworks display in the evening climaxed the day's activities which included a baby parade, racing car demonstration and special sporting events.

Countless thousands of people witnessed the spectacular fireworks display at the carnival of St. Michael the Archangel Catholic Church in Levittown. They jammed the carnival grounds and assumed other lookout points on both sides of Levittown Parkway, the Levittown Shopping Center and the Pennsylvania Railroad Station.

All swimming and picnicking areas were busy yesterday. Silver Lake, now a Bucks County park, was among the areas attracting large crowds. Picnics and barbecues were observed in the backyards of many homes.

Hits Guard Rail

A Morrisville driver lost control of his car on Route 13 at Tyburn Road, Falls Township, Wednesday and bashed the guard rail.

Donald Codd, 424 Osborne Ave., Morrisville, driving south on 13 told Officers Laurance Nolan and Charles Beck that he was attempting to "circle down the ramp" when he applied his brakes, skidded, and slammed the guard rail.

Codd was treated for minor injuries at Mercer Hospital.

No charges were filed against the driver, police said.

A collision with a curb, a fire hydrant and a tree caused $600 damage to the car of Peter R. Steech Jr., 231 Tewksbury Road, Fairless Hills, yesterday at 1:50 p.m. in the Levittown Shopping Center.

Steech told Tullytown Police

Ike Goes

Horsebacking A-Device

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP) - President Eisenhower was a likely candidate for a round of golf and possibly another horseback ride today.

Newsman were surprised late Thursday when they spotted the President astride one of his two quarterhorses, trotting through a south cornfield on his Gettysburg farm.

On a farm inspection trip which he usually takes by station wagon, the President was dapper in tan breeches, white shirt, bow tie and wide-brim tan stetson. He seemed to be concentrating but was nevertheless at ease in the saddle.

The President used to ride quite a bit in his early Army days, but this was the first time he's been known to have ridden at his farm.

Injured Man Battles Against Hospital Trip

A Lincoln man, suffering from a severe head cut, was taken to the Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia, yesterday by the Treves Heights Rescue Squad, but not without a struggle.

Phillip Massey was the victim. He was slashed on the head by a broken bottle in an altercation in Lincoln, Bensalem township.

The Rescue Squad was rushing Massey to the Philadelphia hospital when the patient started creating a disturbance.

Massey was too much to handle for the driver, nurse and first-aid man in the ambulance. The Rescue Squad men stopped, while traveling along Roosevelt Boulevard, and enlisted the aid of a park guard.

Chief John B. Walterick he lost control of the car. The tree was knocked over.

Motorcyclist

A Philadelphia motorcyclist and his passenger were upset and injured at Route 413 near U.S. Route 1, Middletown township when the cyclist missed the curve at the Lincoln Highway entrance and continued straight to a field.

Operating the motorcycle was Edward W. Schoenherr, 3227 Longshore Ave., who received a knee laceration and a possible fractured kneecap. His rider, Louis DeAngelis, 18, 3206 Longshore Ave., the owner of the motorcycle, suffered a knee laceration.

Patrolman Anthony Fergione investigated the accident. Bucks County Rescue Squad took the youths to Lower Bucks County Hospital. Schoenherr was admitted.

Hurts Nose

An Andalusia woman suffered a fractured nose yesterday afternoon after hitting a telephone pole on Route 13, Andalusia. She was treated at Lower Bucks County Hospital.

Police said Ursula Hiller, 1175 Tennis Ave., was driving west on Route 13 when she ran off the road and smashed the pole.

Officer Alexander Mocknatch, who investigated the accident for Bensalem Township Police, said a complete statement of the cause of the accident has not yet been obtained from the woman.

In Pennel, the town turned out for a carnival and parade sponsored by the Fire Company. Last night the borough sponsored a fireworks exhibition.

Fourteen fire companies participated in the Pennel parade.

Prize winners were: marching, Parkland Fire Co. Best appearing, not marching, first prize, Newtown Fire Association; second prize, Fairless Hills Fire Co. Best equipment, Yardley Fire Co.

Khrushchev Gets Support Of Military

past few days may be only the prelude to further upheavals.

As Khrushchev consolidated his power and the fate of Molotov and company hung in the balance, there were these other developments:

The central committee of the Chinese Communist Party gave full backing to the Soviet purge of the top Stalinist advocates.

Zhuikov pledged the full might of the Soviet armed forces to the defense of the Soviet state in an address to a Moscow mass meeting.

Red Star, in effect, accused Molotov and his colleagues of treachery for having "intrigued and conspired to remove the elected leaders and fill key posts with their own followers." R. D. Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov, also purged, to the list of malefactors.

Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin went ahead with their announced plans to start their postponed visit to Czechoslovakia next Monday in an apparent effort to prove that all now is well inside Russia.

Mass meetings of workers and peasants were held throughout the Soviet Union, and "spontaneously" denounced Molotov, Malenkov and Kaganovich in increasingly bitter tones.

Two Romanian Stalinists were ousted from their positions of power coincident with the Moscow purge, and there were indications other old guard Stalinist leaders in other satellite nations soon would go.

One dispatch from Moscow said a mass meeting of workers in the Ural mountain city of "Molotov" petitioned the Supreme Soviet to change the name of the town back to his old name of "Perm."

was somewhere in the neighborhood of the 60, kiloton shot or about 60,000 tons of TNT, fired in 1953 on Yucca Flat.

Reeves said a more precise announcement as to the bomb's yield would be made later in the day.

The A-bombs dropped on Japan were equal only to 20,000 tons of TNT, and the biggest A-bomb set off in the U.S. previously was one in 1953 with a violence of 60,000 tons.

The fireball which followed the flash was tremendous. It burned at a temperature of nearly one million degrees centigrade, and at News Nob, 13 miles away, its heat felt for a moment like someone had opened the door of a giant blast furnace.

Seeing Levittown

By LEE GARB

The first rose to bloom in Levittown was reported to this column . . . now that the beetles have taken care of the roses, we've another "first" report: Mrs. John Chortos of 131 Kenwood Drive reports a fully ripe tomato. "It was so ripe it dropped from the vine . . . and the kids ate it." (Wasn't it nice the kids got there first?)

We've a report, too, on a new resident to 115 Timber Lane in Thornridge. . . Dr. Leo Goulet, a bone specialist of note, who has accepted the appointment of associate to Dr. John Royal Moore of Temple U. Dr. Moore is considered one of the top men in his field.

If you're wondering who put those pool events together for the July 4th pool celebration yesterday, the credit goes to Betty Palmer - who co-ordinated the whole program. . . Betty is a life-guard at Indian Creek Park Pool.

The Poetic Mind? . . . A very, very young relative visited us in Levittown the other evening, and upon noticing the flame of the steel plant's hearth against the sky asked if it mightn't, perhaps be "Levittown's Night-Light."

Mr. and Mrs. "Bud" Manchester of 71 Briaroot Lane, Birch Valley, held a 25-year family reunion at their home yesterday. Understand it was a rather complicated thing which included Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Manchester, Sr., Mrs. Joseph Waite, "Bud's" sister, and daughter, Susan from San Gabriel, California, whom the hosts hadn't seen for eight years, and Mrs. Elmer Manchester, "Bud's" brother, from West Memphis, Arkansas, whom nobody has seen for a quarter of a century . . . well, anyway, they enjoyed a typical Levittown backyard doggie roast.

With the appointment of Don Bolles as Public Relations Director of the Levittown Public Library, everybody should know all about everything in short order. Best thing of all is Mr.

Gas Truck Sets Fire To 12 Homes

PHILADELPHIA (UP) - A tank truck loaded with 4,700 gallons of gasoline burst into flames in North Philadelphia today, setting fire to the fronts of 12-row houses forcing residents to flee and damaging six parked autos.

No one was injured although the truck driver, Edward Bragg 27, of 215 Hoffman St., Ridley, Park, Pa., was forced to jump from his cab through flames shooting past either side.

Flames shot as high as 150 feet in the air, setting fire to overhead wires and causing a half dozen to snap.

Bragg told firemen he was slowing down for a traffic light at 2nd St. above Ontario when he suddenly saw flames shooting past the truck cab and heard automobile horns starting to blow.

Bob Horn Gets Driver's License Back

Bob Horn, today, got his driver's license back by order of Bucks County Court.

Horn, 41, of 55 Sweetgum Road, Levittown appealed the suspension of his license on Feb. 21 on the grounds that it had been taken from him illegally.

The license was suspended by the State Director of Highway Safety on Jan. 23, one day after Horn was involved in a Philadelphia accident in which two children were seriously injured.

Horn was not given a hearing prior to the suspension.

Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite, today ordered the State Secretary of Revenue, to return Horn's license and rapped the state officer for reacting to "mob hysteria."

The judge ruled that the reason for the suspension as quoted by the secretary, was not sufficient to warrant the suspension. The secretary had taken the license because Horn "was involved in an accident."

Judge Satterthwaite said there is no authority to suspend a license without a hearing in a non-fatal accident.

Held After Police Battle

to head for the lake. As he backed out the chief heard the loud honking of a car horn. It was Albert Breidigan, the chief said, about to enter Fallsington Ave. from the stop sign at the railroad bridge.

Becomes Indignant

The chief got out of the car, he said, to ask Breidigan if he was in a hurry. He explained the emergency. The driver then demanded to see the chief's driver's license, and said he would have him arrested and fired, according to Walterick.

As Albert Breidigan became indignant, the chief arrested him. It was then that he twice struck the chief, Walterick said. At this point James Breidigan, a passenger in his brother's car, got out and said: "You're not big enough to lock him up."

The chief arrested both. He gave word to call out the fire company and start the search. Falls township police, meanwhile, passed by on Main St. and took Steen's place at the fight scene.

Chief Walterick drove the police cruiser to the lake with both prisoners aboard. They were unhappy and noisy spectators at the lake.

The Main St. fighters, meanwhile were dispersed by the Falls township police. Puerto Rican laborers, they were returned to King Farms.

Shop Center Appeals To Zoning Board

Morrisville's service station problem at the Morrisville Shopping Center may mushroom into a problem for the courts to settle.

The Morrisville Shopping Center is attempting to lease a plot of ground at the corner of Pennsylvania and Trenton Aves. at the Shopping Center for a service station to the Socony Oil Company.

Several months ago the borough's zoning code was amended to prohibit such stations at specified limits from the crossing of two highways.

The code prevented the station from being closer than 25 feet from the street line and 300 feet from a shopping area.

On the basis of plans submitted, Bob Steward, Morrisville zoning officer, refused the center permission to lease the ground to the oil company.

The next step as a petition to the courts for a force order allowing for the service station. This action is still pending.

In the meantime, the Shopping Center is attempting another method of attack by appealing to the borough's zoning board of adjustment for help. The board can declare the zoning officer's decision invalid.

If the Shopping Center fails to get relief from the board of adjustment it can go to the courts for action.

The zoning officer indicated he will also take the matter to the courts if the borough receives an unfavorable verdict from the board.

The appeal before the zoning board is listed for July 25 at the borough hall at 8 p.m.

John Zack, chairman of the borough zoning board of adjustment, will preside over the session.

At a meeting this week, the amendment to the zoning code was reviewed at a public hearing.

No decisions were made with further studies to come about at the zoning board of adjustment hearing.

'Dead' Mother, Child 'Fine'

CHIPLEY, Fla. (UP) — A 25-year-old woman died on the delivery table, was revived three minutes later by two Chipley doctors and then gave birth to a 6-pound, 12-ounce boy, it was reported here today.

Drs. Hugh Thompson and Walter Shehee of the Washington County Hospital said Mrs. Nellie Atkins, who has one other child, suffered a heart attack while in the delivery room late Tuesday night and was pronounced dead.

Thompson said he and Shehee immediately opened her chest and massaged her heart. Three minutes later she was revived.

The doctors then delivered the boy by Caesarian section.

The doctors said that Mrs. Atkins' breathing had stopped and there was no heart beat when she got into the delivery room. They said she had been in labor for two days and had been unable to deliver the child normally.

Big Feet Beat Army

SAN PEDRO, Calif. — UP — The Army admitted today that Pfc. John Ano, 23, of Trenton, N.J., was assigned as a clerk at Ft. MacArthur here because of his big feet.

The 6-foot, 3-inch soldier has feet which measure 12½ inches long and required size 16 shoes. The best the Army could come up with was size 14 foot wear—too tight.

So Ano couldn't be asked to drill. He wore his own shoes for the first year he was in the service but the shoes finally gave out. The private said he had solved his foot problem in civilian life by working for a shoe firm.

The Army even asked the Navy for help in locating a pair of shoes which would fit Ano. No luck and now Ano holds the distinction of being the only GI who wears open-toe sandals with a regulation uniform.
